

Village Teems With Action in Preparation for New Season

Activity General In Town

Brown Paper Time Comes to an End All Through City

Things were happening this week in Palm Springs. The Village is opening up for the new season and the hardy souls who stayed all summer to serve the populace are being joined in increasing numbers by the seasonal establishments and returning vacationers.

The Village is stirring from its summer-long rest and it won't be long now before it will be functioning at capacity.

WINTER RESIDENTS, parents of school children, are returning in greater numbers each day and shop keepers are making preparation to re-open their places of business.

Night clubs and restaurants, closed throughout the summer months, are hives of activity with many employees cleaning showcases and dusting counters, pulling down window signs which read: "Gone fishing. Be back in September."

AMONG THE establishments to open this week were the Doll House, The Dunes, Bill Ude's Cafe, The Village Pharmacy, Gordon's Coffee Shop, The Palm Springs Book Shop, Sam and Mark, Plaza Stationery and many others.

Hurrying renovations and the refurbishing of their establishments are Mr. Dee's, The Chi Chi, The Biltmore Hotel, The Del Tahquitz Hotel, 49er Room, The La Paz, The Colonial House, The Desert Inn will re-open early in October. Real estate offices that have been operating with skeleton crews all summer are showing signs of renewed activity with new desks and chairs and additional salesmen added to their forces.

INDICATIONS that a large number of Villagers have returned to town was seen in the large crowds that attended the opening of the Doll House Thursday and The Dunes Friday night. Old familiar faces that have not been seen since last June were on hand to be greeted by George and Ethel Strebe at The Doll House, and Connie and Ruby at The Dunes.

The Amado Cafe and Cocktail lounge in its new building on Indian avenue near Amado road is expected to be open within the next ten days.

The Wagon Wheel, owned by Esther Gilbert, 175 East Amado road, was granted an on-sale beer See NEW SEASON, Page 8

A decent chap, kind to his mother, polite, benign, all mankind's brother. Afoot, he's Mister Big. But just let him get behind a wheel. He's transformed into an utter heel. With manners like a pig.

At that, I don't know why I should insult a pig with meat prices as they are. . . . Anyway, just blame the above atrocity on a short foray into holiday traffic. . . . It's too late now but here's one that should have been put out last week before the three-day Labor Day holiday:

Where will you be September seven? Still with us, in hell or heaven?

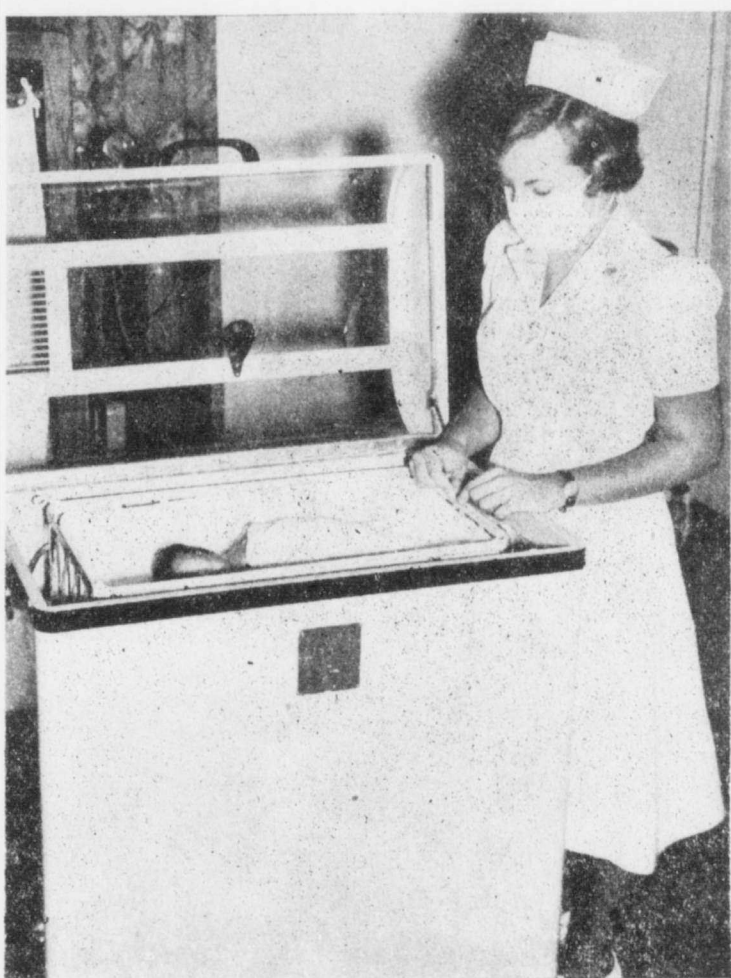

THERE ARE two holidays this week. . . . Yesterday, Labor Day, and the day after tomorrow, Admission Day. . . . Seems unfair but the youngest of the two gets the biggest play. . . . Yesterday's Labor Day observance, which was general, was only the 54th such holiday. Labor Day wasn't officially recognized until September 1, 1894, when congress passed a law. . . . Admission Day, Thursday, will be the 98th such holiday. . . . It celebrates an act of congress of Sept. 9, 1850. . . . But only the bankers and the city hall staff will give it a tumble. And they'll have to make up for lost time Friday.

I USED TO LIKE to read the Daily World. . . . It's profound trifling with veracity used to make me so mad. . . . I think it's good for a man to be irked once in a while. . . . Then, I guess they gave up trying to make me a fellow traveler and took me off the free list. . . . (I wouldn't pay to get mad.) . . . But I don't miss it any more. . . . Draft Sign-Up At Slow Pace

Today was the last of a two-day registration period for 23-year-olds at Palm Springs high. September 8 and 9 has been set aside for registration of 22-year-olds, according to Mrs. Roxlu Bohrer, in charge of the registrations.

She reported that registration since August 30, first day of the draft has proceeded at a snail's pace because many men of draft age have not yet returned to the Village.

Mrs. Bohrer reiterated her warning of early last week, that those men who must register have to do so by deadline time September 18.

Other periods of registration are as follows:

Those born in 1926 register on September 4 to 7; in 1927, September 10 to 11; in 1928, September 13 to 14; in 1929, September 15 to 16; in 1930 before September 19, register on September 17 or September 18 and those born on or after September 19, 1930 must register within five days after their 18th birthday.

Hit and Run

Accident Victim In Serious Condition

An unidentified man was in Community hospital today seriously injured as result of a hit and run case on Highway 99 near Banning Sunday.

A road block was set up here at request of Banning police for a black 1939 coupe involved in the case but without success.

The victim is believed to be a Banning resident.

All Offers Rejected at Pago Pago Public Sale

All bids at the trustee sale of Artz Restaurants Incorporated, operators of the Pago Pago, 319 North Palm Canyon drive, were rejected as insufficient, according to Ben Meyer, whose brother, Ralph, acted as trustee for the court.

Meyers said there were a number of people in Federal court, Los Angeles, Tuesday, August 31, at 10 a. m., bidding for the property. He added that private bids for the Pago Pago are now being sought and the cafe will be sold if the court approves the sale price.

State Enters Liquor Quiz Police Prepare for Reopening of Schools

To Maintain High Safety Mark Here

Motorists Reminded That Children Will Throng Streets Monday

Preparations for the re-opening of schools next Monday provided a major topic of study for policemen today as Chief A. G. Kettmann readied his staff for added traffic patrol duties and warned the public of increased traffic hazards starting Sept. 13. "Motorists who have become accustomed to ignoring school zones during the summer months are reminded to exercise extra caution starting Monday," the chief said. "Strict enforcement of school traffic safety laws is on the agenda starting next week."

SPEED LIMITS in school zones, school bus stops, observance of school traffic patrol signals and the like will be enforced strictly this season.

"We haven't had a school bus accident or trouble in school zones and we intend to keep it that way if we possibly can," Kettmann said.

Howard Poe, member of the police force who was in charge of school safety work last season, is again on the job and lining up a busy program for this year.

IN ADDITION, Chief Kettmann said, more members of the force have been taking refresher courses in school safety and it will play a prominent part in traffic enforcement here this fall.

School safety patrols and school bus safety guards, recruited from the school children, will again be organized. Under direction of George Bond, transportation superintendent for the school system, and technical advice from Traffic Office Poe, the patrols and guards will be on the same efficient basis this fall.

"We'll be ready Monday when school opens—and strongly urge Village motorists to be the same. Just a little caution by everyone and we'll maintain our excellent record," said Kettmann.

Deadline

Two Weeks Remain to Assure Nov. 2 Ballot

With only 16 days remaining, an urgent appeal to Villagers who are not certain of their registration to make sure that they will be able to vote Nov. 2, was issued today by Mrs. Louise McCarn, deputy registrar for Palm Springs.

Registration for the important general election closes Sept. 23, two weeks from Thursday. Besides the presidential election a large number of important propositions are on the ballot.

Mrs. McCarn is registering voters at the city hall and plans to establish branch registration offices down town this week.

Quiet Holiday

L. A. Smog Turns Bulk Of Travel to West

Palm Springs experienced a quiet Labor Day holiday yesterday in contrast to last year.

The weather did it. Last year it was fairly cool during the Labor Day weekend in the metropolitan area and everyone took to wheels.

This year it was hot and a thick blanket of eye-smarting smog lay between the bulk of the population and the east. They turned west to the beaches rather than penetrate it.

There'll be another holiday Thursday—Admission Day—which will probably go unobserved here except by bankers and bank workers.

Wanted Man Flies Over Heads of Police Seeking Him on Highway 111; Missing With $20,000 Cash

Palm Springs police set up a road block on Highway 111 last week end looking for Tommy Thompson, missing cashier of the U. S. Gypsum company at Midland, near Blythe in the county desert, but the wanted man, according to later developments, flew over their heads in staging his disappearance.

Thompson is wanted for questioning in connection with the disappearance of $20,000 in payroll cash last Friday.

The sheriff's office has learned that after Thompson obtained the $20,000 payroll at the post office Friday, he drove to Rice airport, hired a plane to take him to Riverside and then engaged a taxi-cab for a trip to Los Angeles. He got out at a hotel there but did not enter it. He has not been seen since.

Local police were notified Friday to be on the look-out for Thompson. At first it was feared he had met with foul play in the short block between the Gypsum company offices and the postoffice at Midland.

But now a search is under way on sheriff's warrant.

Local police maintained a watch here until word came that he had flown over the desert.

Heat Wave Is Painful

It was hot in Palm Springs last Thursday—118, in fact, and the hottest day of the year up to then.

It was so hot that automobile engines didn't need to run long to have cooling systems anything but cool.

Paul Travers, employed at Kelley's Furniture store, found that out. His engine showed marked signs of overheating Thursday and he decided to replenish the water supply.

Shortly after he started to take of the radiator cap he was in Community hospital.

The boiling water blew off the cap and surged over him resulting in second degree burns on his left hand, chest and shoulders.

His condition was improved today.

State C. of C. Highway Plans To Be Closed Boon to Village Youth Center For 2 Weeks

Widening of U. S. Highway 70-99 from a point a few miles east of Redlands to Beaumont and widening and re-alignment of U. S. Highway 60-70-99 from Palm Springs Junction eastward 10 miles are two major projects affecting Palm Springs and the desert area, recommended for early action by the highway committee of the state chamber of commerce.

Completion of the four-lane divided freeway between Redlands and Beaumont will provide Villagers with a four-lane highway all of the way to Los Angeles and the Coast points beyond.

AT PRESENT, a four-lane highway extends from Los Angeles to Colton and will soon be open to Redlands. Some sections of the new Colton-Redlands stretch are now in use. From Redlands, up Reservoir Hill and beyond, a four-lane highway now extends for eight miles. From the end of that four-lane divided highway the road is a two-lane affair for seven miles to Beaumont with the exception of some "vertical curves" where the highway crosses hills.

This seven-mile stretch is marked for early action. From Beaumont to Palm Springs junction the highway is again four-lane and from Whitewater Point to a point just north of the city limits, it is four-lane. Plans for a four-lane road from Whitewater Point to the junction have already been drawn.

WHEN THE GAP west of Beaumont is widened to four lanes, Villagers will be able to roll all of the way to Los Angeles from Palm Springs without worrying about passing or being passed. At present, chances of being trapped behind a slow-moving (Please turn to Page Four)

Notice

Due to the change-over in mechanical operations of The Desert Sun, subscribers are asked to notify the circulation department immediately if they do not receive their copy of Friday's issue promptly.

For the same reason, there may be some delay in "changes of address."

The Sun starts operations in its new office this week and there may be a few "bugs" to be eliminated before all is moving in the efficient manner planned.

The circulation department is setting up its machinery for the best service possible but it may take an issue or two before the planned high plane is reached.

Purchases By Juveniles Before SBE

Evidence Gathered By Village Police Submitted to Board

Evidence gathered by local police in the sale of intoxicating liquors to juveniles will be submitted to the state board of equalization for further investigation and possible action, according to City Attorney Roy W. Colegate.

Between 25 and 30 youths, all minors, have been questioned by police in the probe which was precipitated by the death of a youth in a motorcycle crash following what police term was a "beer bust."

Police quietly had been investigating the situation before that time but found juveniles reluctant to talk until the tragedy struck home.

Chief A. G. Kettmann gathered much evidence last week and turned the facts and names he had accumulated over to Attorney Colegate.

Colegate has presented a review of the situation to the state board, which has complete jurisdiction in such cases, for action.

LIQUOR CONTROL UP AGAIN. Not one, but TWO, proposed constitutional amendments on the liquor question will come before California voters next November. One is sponsored by the California Temperance Federation, the other by various groups interested in the question. There are three principle reasons why the liquor problem is being brought to the voters again: 1) A desire for more strict regulations. 2) Dissatisfaction with the present state-controlled system. 3) A renewed prohibition movement.

A little later on, The Desert Sun will discuss the two proposals and point out the difference in them for the guidance of voters. Their methods of bringing about more strict regulations are quite different—and interesting. In this article we would like to bring to the attention of readers some background on the problem in general that must be considered when voting on ANY liquor control measure.

1. According to independent polls, 65 per cent of our adult citizens use alcoholic beverages. Ninety-five per cent of those who indulge do so socially—and in moderation—and create no social problem.

2. There are three states where NO distilled spirits can legally be sold: Kansas, Oklahoma and Mississippi. There are in these states some 2000 individuals who hold United States internal revenue tax stamps to sell spirituous liquors—and do so openly regardless of the state laws.

3. Local option has had the tendency to drive liquor sales under cover rather than reduce the number of users. In 1918, with four-fifths of the nation legally dry, we had the largest per capita consumption of alcoholic beverages in our history.

4. Modern rackets—which have spread to numerous commodities and services—were born in national prohibition days, and these same lawless conditions exist to a lesser degree under local option.

5. Local option creates a problem whereby districts that stay wet have an unfair economic advantage over those that go dry.

THE VOTER'S CHOICE therefore seems between the lesser of two evils. And it is a difficult choice to make, regardless of the moral issue. No one wants to encourage gangsters, bootleggers, moonshiners and vicious criminals who see in prohibition—and local option—the chance to make millions of dollars by supplying illegal liquor to dry communities. Then, too, the control of liquor can become a political racket.

It must be admitted by all, however, that the sale and distribution of liquor must be controlled in some manner . . . that minors must be protected . . . that drinking to excess causes a tremendous social problem and costs the taxpayers of this country millions of dollars.

So these two proposed constitutional amendments on the liquor problem will bring the perplexing problems before the people again. They are worthy of much thought and consideration—too important for last-minute decision.

State Will Remain On Daylight Time Says Governor

The days are getting shorter. It's still dark when a lot of Villagers go to work these mornings and the sun is slipping behind San Jacinto a little earlier each evening.

But the Village will have that extra hour of daylight. Governor Earl Warren said Friday that California would not return to standard time Sept. 26 when the rest of the nation did.

HE EMPHASIZED that though he had the power to continue daylight savings time, he could not reinstate it once returned to standard time.

"If we had some dry fall months we might be in trouble," he said, and pointed out that southern California will have a drastic power shortage around December of this year.

Governor Warren said the Public Utilities Commission report, which recommended the maintenance of daylight savings, was "far reaching."

SO—WHILE it's noon on the standard time pieces, it'll only be 11 a. m. in Palm Springs—and the rest of California. At least until next January when the present DT law comes to an end. It was established last Spring to save electricity when lack of rain threatened the state's hydro-electric plants.

County Board Has No Fund for Parole Officer

A request that a district attorney's investigator be hired to investigate parole cases was tabled last week by board of supervisors.

Members of the county parole board—Chief of Police J. A. Bennett, District Attorney William O. Mackey and Sheriff Carl Rayburn—made the request.

The supervisors said there was no provision for a parole officer in the 1948-49 budget, so the request will have to be placed in next year's budget file.

Governor Warren's Crime Commission, which studied the Riverside county penal system recently, suggested that a full-time parole officer be hired, the parole board's letter said.

"We feel that the parole system is not being properly handled because there is no man who devotes his full time to it," the letter stated.

"There's nothing we can do about it," said Supervisor Arthur Weirick. "These things shouldn't come up 60 days after the budget is approved."

Visible Numbers on Homes Would Help Says Police Chief

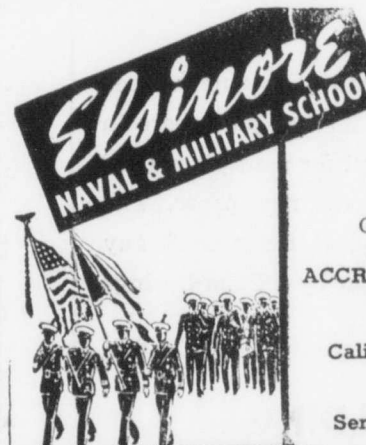

Lack of numbers on houses is giving members of his department something of a headache, according to Chief of Police August Kettmann.

"We received a call from some citizen reporting prowlers," he explained. "Police officers rush out to the street and then a search for the house begins, wasting precious moments because there is no number on the house."

He urged that home owners paint the street number of the house on a fence or some place where it can be seen. In many cases declared the chief, shrubbery has grown so tall the number cannot be seen if it is on the house.

Judge Therieau Sees
Hike in Colt Cases

Judge Eugene E. Therieau of city and township courts, said yesterday that inflation had finally reached the legal business.

"Understand that there's a movement on foot to increase the scope of small claims courts in the state. These courts now have jurisdiction in cases involving funds up to $50. A movement is underway to have this maximum increased to $100.

"According to the sponsors of the proposal—the Kern County Bar association—the sum of $100 today is little greater in purchasing power or otherwise than was the sum of $50 in 1921 when the small claims court act was put on the state's books.

"The $50 cases are headache enough—think of what it'll be when $100 is the limit!" added the Judge.

The Kern county plan will be discussed at a conference of state bar delegates at Santa Barbara next week.

Close Games and One Casualty On Field Club Menu

Hard fought games, close scores and one casualty highlighted the softball menu Thursday and Friday.

The scheduled curtain raiser at 7 p. m. Thursday between the Globe Trotters and the Banning Girls was postponed.

White Sox and Mexican Colony clashed in the second game.

Ben Prieto pitching for the Colony allowed the White Sox to score four runs during the first inning, but blanked them the remaining six innings. Final score was 8 to 4.

White Sox 400 000 0—4 4 4
Mex. Colony..... 323 000 X—8 7 6
Batteries: Bill Jones, Herb Pellum, Bobby Malone; Ben Prieto, Sid Canales.

PAPPY HUBBS, pitching for Palm Springs Electric against the Outlaws at Banning, suffered a spiked leg when he and his catcher, Jimmie Jackson, collided running for an infield bunt.

Marty Martin who relieved Hubbs in the box kept his team mates out in front by a score of 3 to 2 until the eighth inning when the Outlaws crashed through for five runs making the final tally 7 to 3.

THERE WAS ONE game Friday between Junior Chamber of Commerce and Palm Springs Electric, the latter winning by the narrow margin of 10 to 9. The first inning for the Electric aggregation was disastrous for the Chamber team. Herb Rausch stepped to the plate with three men on and hit a grand slam homer. Joe Sandeffer, his team mate, also knocked a four bagger. Ed Thompson and Doc Backstrom for the Jr. Chamber of Commerce were also credited with home runs.

truck on the hills are frequent on the two-lane road.

The state chamber of commerce committee also recommended re-alignment and widening of the highway from the junction east toward Indio as a major project within the next two years. This is also of much interest to city officials because of the effect it will have here, tending to pull traffic back on to 60-70-99 from Highway 111. More and more of the through traffic has been using 111 through Palm Springs because of easier grades, curves and less wind even though the route is several miles longer.

ELIMINATION of traffic bottle necks in Beaumont and Banning also were contained in the state chamber's recommendations in a request for planning, engineering and surveying of the highway through those cities.

Another recommendation of interest to Villagers was that urging widening of the Santa Ana canyon highway, a favorite route of Villagers to the south coast beaches.

The recommendations were handed the state highway commission in Sacramento last week by the state chamber of commerce along with requests for other highways in the southland counties.

All new type faces—both for advertising and news—will greet readers with the change-over to the new plant in Palm Springs.

*The value of advertising is determined by RATE PER THOUSAND circulation.

The R.P.M. of The Desert Sun is the lowest in the 22-year history of this newspaper. Based on circulation—the only true measure of advertising value—display and classified rates of Desert Sun are now the LOWEST ever offered by ANY Palm Springs newspaper. What other product or service can make this claim?

This remarkable value in the face of greatly increased costs of production has been made possible through the rapidly growing circulation of this newspaper—both in subscriptions and newsstand sales. The present, summertime circulation is larger than at the top-of-the-season a few years ago.

This spells better results for Desert Sun advertisers at lower cost. It means that well-prepared copy, consistently run—will increase sales. Expert copy and illustration services are available without extra charge, unless individual cuts are desired.

The cost need not be large. Small advertisements in The Desert Sun get big results. Let a Desert Sun copy writer help you plan your advertising schedule right now for the fall season.

Locally owned and operated, The Desert Sun now takes its place as one of Palm Springs' leading business institutions. Drop in and see our new home—in "The Center."

Experienced Restaurateur At Royal Palms Cafe

The Royal Palms Coffee Shop is operating today under new management with H. C. Davis, formerly of the Taft Grill in Hollywood in charge of the Palm Canyon drive establishment. During the summer the cafe was operated as "Freddie's." Announcement of the change was made this week by the Royal Palms hotel management. Davis is an experienced restaurateur and said that the Coffee Shop would serve breakfasts, lunches and dinners daily and will be open from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. Fine foods at nominal prices will be my sole aim," Davis said. Mrs. Davis and daughter, Helen, who is a student at U. C. L. A., will remain in Hollywood for the present.

Moral Effect

No Crime Wave When There's a Hot Wave

It might have been the warm weather which made even crime an effort—or, perhaps, the Village is just getting better day by day.

At any rate, crime and corruption took pretty much of a vacation here in August, according to the monthly police report filed with City Manager W. E. Alworth by Chief of Police A. G. Kettmann last week.

Misdemeanor arrests slumped to 34 whereas in July they hit 70. A sharp drop in traffic citations accounted for most of the decrease.

Just plain drunks accounted for ten arrests and one drunk driving case was listed. Two traffic accidents, five felony complaints and four felony arrests were also listed.

Money and property recovered amounted to $709 the chief reported.

Hot Springs With Palm Springs in Battle for Desert

Desert Hot Springs is definitely with Palm Springs in all matters for the betterment of the desert area as a recreational and health center.

So said Jean Shannon, publisher of the Desert Hot Springs Sentinel in refuting claims made by Banning and Beaumont interests supporting the S. A. Guiberson cement mill proposal and opposing the Palm Springs zoning ordinance.

Miss Shannon was emphatic in her statement last week denying published and verbal claims that the resort across the Whitewater channel favored the mill and opposed Palm Springs.

"We are naturally for the things that are best for Palm Springs," she said. "We, too, are a recreational and health center and what is best for Palm Springs

Savings and Loan Associations Boom

Home Financing Groups Increase 72 Per Cent

A 76 per cent increase in the number of savings associations with resources of at least $20,000 since V-J Day is reported by the United States Savings and Loan league.

On basis of member associations' financial statements as of June 30, the league's president, Gen. Ralph M. Smith, West Somerville, Mass., says there are now 51 in this size group, a record number, located in 20 different states.

"There are some 6,000 active associations and the 51 of top size constitute 14 per cent of the resources of the savings and loan system which has developed proportionately with its largest units," the report states.

Since end of the war, five new states have developed one or more savings and loan associations of $20,000,000 in size—Kentucky, Georgia, Maryland, Connecticut and Oklahoma.

"The housing shortage coupled with the fact that savings and loan institutions confine their lending to home financing has meant that all stops are out as far as demand for their services is concerned," Gen. Smith said.

is best for us. The statements that we are lining up with the cement mill interests over here are false."

Corroborating her statements were editorial comments in a recent Sentinel, from the typewriter of Jerome Storm, editor, Storm wrote:

"Desert Hot Springs stands to win commercially by the plant employment, but if the mill retards our health assets, the plant is no good for us. Both Palm Springs and Desert Hot Springs are identified as recreational and health centers. Through this they have exceeded the growth and wealth of many industrial areas. We are certainly against anything that is not right for Palm Springs.

"Beauty of the desert is its greatest asset. Is all this to be destroyed by unsightly industrial buildings? People move to the desert to escape such an environment and to breathe the clean dry desert air. Can we afford to risk spoiling all this?

"The tax on investments of 65 million far exceeds the tax on 10 million. In trying to grasp industries, we can lose our greatest assets, and we may end in retarding our investments to the extent of lowering the amount of tax derived from this community.

"The old proverb said, 'He who deserts certainty for chance, a fool's pipe he will dance.' "Zoning against industries keeps us in line with certain growth, allowing heavy industry is obviously taking a chance."

Open Trailer Camp In Morongo Valley

Los Angeles Couple Finds "Ideal" Spot

Among the many newcomers to the Morongo Valley section who are establishing businesses there are Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Seerist of Los Angeles.

Residents of the metropolis for many years they visited the desert area in May this year and made up their minds to settle away from the city. Following an automobile tour which covered 4000 miles they returned to Morongo Valley and as a result that area now has its first trailer camp, owner and operated by the Seerists.

They are enthusiastic trailerites and have many friends among that growing clan who are planning to visit Morongo Valley for a stay.

The Hawaiian islands are "the crossroads of the Pacific."

School Trustees, Architects and Builders Look Over New Plants

School board members, Architect John Porter Clark and construction company representatives, approved four new Palm Springs unified school district buildings last week preparatory to putting them into use for the opening of school next Monday.

The buildings inspected were the additions to the Nellie N. Coffman, Cahulla, Cathedral City and Desert Hot Springs schools.

Making the tour were Ray Sorum, Willard Hillery, Rolland Vaile, of the board; Dr. Arthur Hoff, school chief; J. P. Clark and a member of the Seerist Construction company, builders.

Activity is brisk at Palm Springs high school, too, and new buildings going up there will be ready before many weeks. The new gymnasium will be ready by mid-December, according to

Police Locate Body of Man, Missing 3 Days

Believed to have died more than three days before, the body of Otto Eckert, about 60, was discovered in a locked trailer at Clifton's Trailer court Saturday morning.

Neighbors told police that the last time Eckert was seen alive was Wednesday morning, September 1. Saturday Howard Perdue, Indian agent, asked police to investigate.

Officer Bob White said he forced his way into the tightly closed trailer and discovered the body which was taken to Wiesel Mortuary where an autopsy is to be performed.

Police today were attempting to locate relatives of Eckert.

Trailers

Lawyers Would Give Them Home Rights

Of much interest to the many trailer dwellers in the Village is the proposal of the Los Angeles Lawyers club to exempt house-trailers from creditors' claims as other homes are exempted.

The Los Angeles club, according to articles received by local attorneys, thinks legislation should be enacted to provide $1,000 exemption.

The use of house trailers has become not only universal but necessary," the club says in its statement of reasons.

"Thousands of residents are living in the only home they have, consisting of a house trailer. The trailer as such cannot be homesteaded, nor is there any provision under California law for its exemption. It seems absolutely imperative that a family living in a house trailer as a home should be permitted to continue to have the same protection as against his creditor either in state court proceedings or any bankruptcy proceedings."

The large tiled kitchens of Holland, which are usually the scenes of most activity in Dutch households, contrast greatly in size with compact modern American kitchens used for little but cooking and dishwashing.

DON MANCHESTER'S Bombay, without an on-sale spirits license all summer, received its license this week and is in full operation, too.

The Luau at the Palm Springs Hotel is expected to open around September 15, it was announced. Across the street, the Royal Palms Hotel's Rainbow Room opened September 1 and its Royal Room is expected to open sometime this month.

THE COLONIAL HOUSE lounge and dining room may not be open to the public with the exception of guests until December, although the hotel itself will be accepting guests October 1.

The exact status of The Stables is not officially known but it is expected to be open this Fall. In the meantime the brown paper is off most of the windows and will be all gone by October 1.

THE MIDDLE of the month should see Palm Springs teeming with seasonal activity and the end of October it will be back to normal.

The days of the November to March season seem to be a thing of the past as the Village blossoms earlier each year.

Western Week and the Menswear convention late next month will be the official send-off for the season.

It won't be long now.

This Side of Sun . . .

to be built . . . I like the high plane maintained in its news columns . . . I quote from recent issue which describes residents of Palm Springs in the following dainty, elevated manner: Quote x x x exotic pansies whose noses are so delicate that they can smell around a mountain, against the wind, and whose eyesight is so keen they can look around a mountain. Unquote. That was from an article displayed as a news item . . . I just dote on clean, uncolored items like that . . . I bet the person who wrote that crooks the little finger when raising a teacup . . . The cement mill, I think, is a dead fish and people who play with dead fish are likely to stink, too. This is a longer "take" than I like so will end it with this thought: New York got rid of its PM but Banning still has its PU.

THERE IS NO JUSTICE really. During the vacation period I went to the spot where the turf and surf get together several times . . . Did all right but I spent much time and accumulated bills from the power company sitting up late one night figuring who would win the fifth the next day . . . Then, that next day I reluctantly finger two one-dollar bills at the window until the man snatches them from me as I fearfully purchase a ticket on my choice . . . Mrs. G nonchalantly wanders up to the window, carefree, buys a ticket, goes to the place window, buys another . . . "Who ya got?" ask I . . . "No. 4 to win, No. 6 to place." . . . "Why?" . . . "Well, No. 4 has the same name as our daughter-in-law, No. 6 the same as our son . . . It's a natural." . . . It was . . . No. 4 won, No. 6 came in second . . . The horse I picked went to the outside fence at the stretch turn, presumably to gaze reflectively at the beautiful cloud-flecked ocean . . . Sometimes I wonder if the editors of the Racing Form aren't wasting their time.

ADD INJUSTICE DEPT: This year I took my vacation in August . . . All during July I had been getting those "slept under two blankets" and "must stop now to replenish the grate fire" postcards . . . I intended to write a few myself in revenge when I went on my vacation . . . But, instead, I got cards from Palm Springs: "delightful weather, cool nights, got to shake out a blanket, etc." . . . Then I come back and the first day I am here we have the hottest day (118) and the hottest night (85) of the summer . . . One consolation was a postcard this week from Sam Arner of Cathedral City, postmarked Pittsburgh, Pa.: "It's only 99 today and no air conditioning. Wish you were here." Why?

GOT A LOT more translated and decoded vacation notes here but they tell me I'm loaded . . . That is, the paper is not me, personally, and to chop it short: "There ain't room for that . . . but this is a nice paper so can't repeat it all." Anyway, come Friday I'll have a 21-inch column to play with and can give you 50 words more than usual . . . There's always something, isn't there?

Arizona Ceremony

Village friends were surprised today to learn of the wedding of Marian Shirley and Emil Knorr in Yuma, Arizona, Sunday.

The couple recited marital vows before the Rev. L. L. Roberts of Yuma in a double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cook accompanied the couple to Arizona. Mrs. Cook acted as the bridesmaid and her husband as Emil Knorr's best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Knorr returned to the Village yesterday. The bride has been an employee of the local branch of the Bank of America for several years and plans to continue there for the time being.

Knorr, better known as "Curley" has been a resident of Palm Springs for ten years. He has been manager of Thrifty 5 and 10 cent store at Palm Canyon drive and Amado road since leaving the army in 1945.

Mr. and Mrs. Knorr have a residence in the Vista de Ceilo tract.

HE'S AGAINST METERS

Dear Phat: Glad to see you back in the harness. I was talking to old man Snow the other day. The automotive man. And we were discussing the possibilities of our fair city installing slot machines for parking. I deplore the idea because it is a greedy gesture. Our town does not need the few extra dollars accumulated in that manner bad enough to incur the unfavorable impression parking meters would make on the visitors to the "Springs."

Palm Springs MUST NOT become mechanized! It MUST remain a village as its most attractive feature. As it is now we have slot machines for vending stamps, cigarettes, cokes (destroying the personal touch). Now parking meters threaten. Snow and I wondered why the city fathers or grand puppets did not seize upon your bench idea and put slot machines on them, too? In operation, sharp pins would be sticking up through the seats of the benches. The prospective sitter would insert a coin which would give him so many minutes of resting. If a fellow sat too long without dropping another nickel, the pins would come up and gently goose him.

Indepthably yours,
Arthur Bliss Conkwright,
Stormy Petrel.

MORE TO BE DONE

To the Desert Sun: The publicity given to the tragedy caused by minors being sold liquor is most commendable but what about item hidden on the back page in the last column?

Do you know that that incident might have ended in an even worse tragedy? A young innocent woman and her mother could have been raped and murdered if it had not been for the courage and level headedness of the older woman. It was just luck that the girl did not start home alone.

This was caused by minors—drunk and foreigners besides. It slot machines for parking. I deplore the idea because it is a greedy gesture. Our town does not need the few extra dollars accumulated in that manner bad enough to incur the unfavorable impression parking meters would make on the visitors to the "Springs."

For Examination

Pastor Under Observation
After Conviction

The Rev. Charles A. Wise, 50, of Desert Hot Springs, was under examination by Los Angeles county jail psychiatrists as result of his attempt to finance the erection of a church across the valley with worthless checks to the amount of $600. He was convicted on that charge.

The case was the cause of mental suffering for another minister named Wise, the Rev. Richard W. Wise of Palm Springs, who was in no way connected with the case or knew of it. But because of similarity of names and professions, the local pastor was needlessly embarrassed when metropolitan newspapers bannered their stories of the incident with the announcement that the erring minister was a Palm Springs man.

I think the theory that a war can be won against a powerful enemy in 24 hours by atomic bombing is completely fallacious. —Adm. W. H. Blandy, commander, Atlantic Fleet.

DOING THE VILLAGE

Moya Henderson

September is here and with it comes the great influx of Villagers back from vacation and busting around getting ready for another big season. The Jack Reids are back in the groove after a wonderful summer in Atlanta visiting Bettie's family. The Homer Ferns have recently returned from a northern jaunt and are singing the praises of Lake Louise and Banff. They also enjoyed a visit with daughter Shirley in San Francisco. Clare and Marjorie Ballagh drove into town early this week from a summer spent in Michigan which means that the local youths will be spending their afternoons preparing for their first football fracas which is not far off. Henry and Laura Greeley are busily moving into their new home after a profitable summer pursuing studies in Claremont. Also moving into their brand new quarters last week at the Truesdale tract were Dottie and Jack Gorham who cut short an enjoyable trip into Los Angeles to put the finishing touches on their new home. Ditto Russell and Jane Wade who left the cool breezes of Santa Monica behind them. They report they left the stork circling round the home of Harry and Pat Reid and the sound of the old bird's wings brought Dr. Henry Reid flying from Estes Park to be on hand when he becomes a grandfather.

MANY HOPEFULS remain at the beach waiting for the fog to lift that has been a steady diet all through August. Ruth Valeur and son George remained with the George Robertsons for the week and Stella and Swede Davis returned from their Balboa vacation on Labor Day. Although Lee Bering and Tom Lyons expect to return to the Village soon to reopen the Tennis Club, work progresses rapidly on the new Laguna club and when we're stopped by a quick look see Muriel Bering was busy as straw boss on the attractive bungalows overlooking the blue Pacific. Lee Bering's Beach House at San Clemente is still going great guns and if the crowds continue as they have been, plans are to remain open this winter. Dining there last Saturday evening were the Oliver Jaynes family and Kay Cordrey with a party of friends. Harold and Hazel West tripped down to Laguna last week end to visit Al and Esther Weingarten. Watching the boats come in and out of the harbor was too much for Gordon Youngs and so, before leaving Balboa, he placed his order for a neat little cruiser with which he hopes to chase down a few sword fish and albacore next summer. Our suggestion that he convert it into a play house for the neighboring children during the winter months didn't quite go over.

A MAD round of parties is bringing to a close the season in Idyllwild. Jane Neel dropped into town Wednesday and decided the Hill was a good place to stay till over Labor Day. Ruth and Ken DuBose are back in the Village but hope to get in the three-day holiday in their Idyllwild cabin before officially moving down.

Believe it or not, the small fry around town are anxiously awaiting the opening of school and a grand get together with all their pals. It's grand to get away for awhile but it's always good to get home and greet old friends again.

Nothing Like
Village She Says

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Burgoyne of Alhambra, and Mrs. Peggy Harper, their guest from Philadelphia, Pa., are guests at the El Casa Don.

Mrs. Harper, on her first visit here, was thrilled with Palm Springs and expressed the hope that she would be able to come here to make her home in the near future.

"It's the only place," she told Mrs. Alpha Ferdon, proprietor of the apartments.

OUR NATIONAL INCOME

According to statisticians the National income in the United States was 161 billion dollars in 1945. In 1932 the income of the whole United States was less than 40 billion dollars.
